Varied activities highlight WCHS in the autumn of '72

The autumn of '72 saw football, dances, cross country meets, PSAT's and, of course, the senior class play.

Student organizations began the school year with many activities. The Future Teachers of America took first graders to the Children's Museum and the Haunted House in Indianapolis. The WCHS National Honor Society tapped new members in early fall. The Booster Club sponsored a powder puff football game between the junior and seniors in October. Many other clubs were busy with initiations and planning the year's activities.

Another important part of autumn's activities were classes. With Central 9 Vocational School open, many WCHS students took advantage of the opportunities there. Classes offered at WCHS were nearly the same as last year. Approximately ten new teachers were added to the faculty and classrooms of WCHS.

The autumn of '72 promised to make the year a busy one for both teachers and students. The following pages tell everything there was to know about WCHS in 1972.

Winter months at WCHS

Wintertime! At WCHS—a time of building forts, having a dozen snowballs hitting anything that gets in the way, walking hand in hand, crying, laughing, arguing, and agreeing. The world of WCHS is never dull.

There are days when the sky is blue, the ground is white and the atmosphere has the appearance of a sugar candyland. Like the outdoors, the tiny world within the doors of WCHS is peaceful. But like the weather, atmospheres and moods change.

Students can and did work harmoniously in the drama play "Our Town", in preparing the Sunshine Dance, and planning the great basketball homecoming.

Students at WCHS attempt many things and finish them well.

Winter is busy time at WCHS

Some of the main events in winter included the Sunshine Dance, basketball homecoming, the sectional, and the choral and band show. Practically every WCHS student participated in one of these events as the winter months got into full swing.

December was highlighted by club Christmas parties, iceskating outings, and the Sunshine Dance. The choral and instrumental music departments combined efforts to present a Christmas show to the public.

January rolled slowly along as students took semester tests and began the second semester.

February brought good old "Hoosier Hysteria" to WCHS as basketball sectionals began. Whiteland served as the host school as the Franklin Cubs were sectional champs.

Activities help winter months fly quickly by

WCHS has a lot to offer in the areas of sports, clubs, and activites, and winter is packed with things to do. Dances, basketball games, parties, and club activities take a lot of effort and time from each student as they try their best to achieve their goal-to be the best.

Working together is the main object of WCHS students and they proved it can be done. Heavy snows and rainy days did not dampen the spirits of students through the long months of January and February. Keeping busy, they built teepees for the sectional, made spirit signs, decorated halls, had parties, and showed their spirit.

Winter can be dull, but WCHS students show otherwise to the outside world.

After the winter months, springtime was a refreshing change for WCHS students and teachers alike.

From March to May, the months zipped by for most students. The seniors counted down slowly as their high school days came to a close.

Events held despite rain

Activities bloomed at WCHS even though the spring months were filled with rain. The Entree and Swing Choir Show—"Naturally" began the long line of events. Most of the baseball games and track meets were finally held after being rained out on many of the scheduled days. Year-end parties of many clubs were held during April and May.

Spring Activities Keep Students Busy

Spring is the time of year when so many things have to be done in so little time. Fortunately, most students are willing to work really hard and get events moving. For example, this year's Prom was one of the best ever, and clubs made better profits from the Mardi Gras than last year. Who knows? Maybe it's the weather, but Spring seems to bring out the creativity in everyone.

Spring is a mood changer

Spring is sort of sneaky. You wait all winter long for it, just longing for warm weather and freedom, and in the midst of wanting it, you find it's already there. School's almost out and giddiness sweeps over you as you realize the whole world is out there waiting for you. Even the sun smiles and warms the earth around you.

Laziness washes over you and you really just can't find the energy to study English or government, but somehow you manage to burst into motion at the mere mention of the prom or spring music programs or graduation. In a flurry you prepare for important things like these. And these are important—they're the things that make up memories and build dreams.

A. Senior girls make last minute preparations and choose the blue tinted carnations they carried during Commencement.

B. Jeff Osborne and Kyle Robbins surge forward to get ahead of Bloomington North in the low hurdles.

C. Debbie Golden and Terri Jackson worked hard to make flowers for Teacher Appreciation Day.

F. The Entrees gave an excellent performance at the Spring Choral Program, "Naturally".

G. Richard Hatfield enjoyed his bizarre costume which included painting his face green and yellow for Senior Hobo Day.

Seniors Enjoy Final Year

The thing seniors do best is have fun. There were all kinds of activities that brought much joy to the Class of '73 the whole year through. But whatever a senior does, it's all with one final goal–May 20 and diploma–in mind.

Seniors make good leaders

Leadership is an important part of growing up and students find this out the most when they are seniors. They excel in all activities, but with this honor comes great responsibilities. Seniors receive many honors but behind all these there are many long hours of hard work. The Class of'73 should take pride in their achievements and leaders during their last year.

Awards bring school honor

Seniors have a lot of fun during their four years of high school, but they also put in a great deal of work. WCHS has many scholastic award winners to prove that there's more to school than fun. Hard work, sacrifices, and dedication play a major part in a successful high school education.

Underclassmen envy seniors.

Senior privileges ranged from private cafeteria tables to getting out of school early at the end of the year. The class of '73 was living proof that there is more to one's senior year than just getting that high school diploma. Even as hobos, the seniors were always on top with a great deal of good looks and class.

Year has happy ending for seniors.

Class spirit was high among seniors during the final few weeks of school.

As prom and graduation ceremonies take place, memories of years past also run high. All seniors have special memories which will live with them through the rest of their lives.

And as for the underclassmen who are looking on, their time will come.

Administration Does Job Well

Operating the school smoothly and efficiently is the job of several important people—namely, the faculty. From the superintendent to the janitor, each is a part that the school can't do without. Each is indispensible when it comes to doing his job well.

Principals James Sleighter and Sam Wiley prove themselves extremely capable of satisfying the demands of over eight hundred students. The school board isn't always as successful, but favorable compromises are generally reached.

Cooks, matrons, and janitors aren't to be forgotten either. Hard-working and usually unthanked, these people do much more for students than is ever realized.

Teachers are appreciated

One cannot realize the difficulty of trying to reach a classroom of students who are, for the most part, apathetic about learning, unless he has been a teacher. This difficulty was experienced by members of Future Teachers of America on April 13, 1973. The club members gave the teachers of WCHS a special day of recognition by exchanging places with them. At the end of the day, most of the participating students agreed that teaching was definitely a trying and exhausting profession.

Teachers have Enthusiasm

Whether sponsoring a club party, whooping it up at a pep session, or just plain teaching a class, WCHS teachers are as active as students. Teachers not only act as instructors, but are always readily available as guides, leaders and friends.

Through the ingenuity of the English department teachers, an entirely different Language Arts program will be put in effect next year. By always being open to change and new ideas, teachers show that they are the most important part of the school.

Harriers win first County Championship

The 1972 Cross Country team enjoyed its most successful season ever. They lost only two dual meets and became the first Warrior runners to capture the Johnson County team title. One week later the proud Warriors took their first Mid-State Conference Championship trophy.

Coach Jim Thayer's boys proved that lack of experience can be overcome by hard work and complete dedication to the team. The varsity members logged many miles of running during the summer months in preparation for their grueling practice sessions.

Joe Adams won the Most Valuable Runner award by a vote of the team members. Joe outclassed the field in the Johnson County meet when he pulled away from Franklin's Frank Shidler to win in a record time of 13:02 on the 2½ mile course. Hard-working Bob Poole, the lone senior, shared co-captain honors with Adams.

The remaining runners are all talented underclassmen and will return next year to continue the winning tradition established this season. Jerry Bernardi, Kyle Robbins, Lloyd Frazier, Randy Shipp, Tim Shipp, and Craig Thayer now have the experience that will help bring even more honor to WCHS

For the second year in a row, the Warriors put it together and turned out the finest team to ever walk onto the Warrior gridiron. With a record of 8-2 the Warriors again defeated all county foes and added three new scalps to their list. Decatur Central, Beech Grove, and Danville all bowed to the Whiteland Warriors for the first time ever.

Led by Seniors Ron Ramsey and Rob Shirley the Warrior offensive once again picked apart every defense they faced. Shirley was voted MVP and Most outstanding back, while he also shared Co. Captain honors with Darrell Stovall.

The defensive unit was a real gem in the Warriors' success as they limited their ten opponents to a total of seventy-seven points. Led by the seniors the Warriors' defensive was given the name of "gang tacklers." Juniors Duane DeBaun, Larry LaBonte, Tim Stephenson, and sophomore Bill Gale were also important figures in the Warrior defense.

Seniors lead 8-2 Warriors

Hardwork, sweat, and tears along with unity and great coaching had to be the ingredients that Head Coach Dave Conrad threw together this past season as he created the most powerful team probably ever to be seen around this county. (The Warriors proved they could win when they collected seven straight scalps after winning the first and losing the next two.)

Led by a strong Senior class, the Warriors developed a feeling of sincerity for one another. When one hurt, they all hurt, when one laughed, they all laughed, and when you have this on a team, you have spirit, and when you have spirit you win, and boy, did they win.

Baby Blues work hard for county

Up at 6:00 in the morning and running four to five miles is not exactly what the 1972-73 Baby Blues expected, but Coach Bill Parker wanted to win, and they did. For the second straight year the Baby Blues won the County Title as they again displayed the wrestling tradition that was left behind by former teams.

Losing the sectional and ending the season with a record of 7-4 was not exactly what Coach Parker dreamed of, but because of patience and time he produced the first two State finalist of Johnson County since 1969 when Joe Hodge finished third in the State tournament.

Looking at next year, the Baby Blues should be strong with nine returning lettermen and a strong student body behind them. What was done this year is history, what tomorrow will bring is yet to come.

Warrior pair qualify for State Finals

Even though Whiteland was beaten by Greenwood in the Sectionals by a mere 2½ points, two boys of the Warrior squad showed the rest of the county what Wrestling really looked like. Mark Egbert made his first trip to the State as a Sophomore as he captured such honors as County Champ, Sectional Champ, and Regional Champ.

Senior Dennis Foran really came on as he collected a conference title along with MVP of the conference meet. He also collected sectional and regional titles. By a unamious choice Foran was also voted MVP by his teammates.

The determination of these two champions show what is being built at Whiteland. Maybe next year instead of just two we'll have thirteen and for the finest time be State Champs.

Cindermen develop talents

With only five seniors and the rest underclassmen, Coach Dave Conrad accepted the challenge and led the Warrior Cindermen to a sparkling 9-4 season record. During the long season Doug Poe set the discus throw record at 119'11" while Randy Wood set a new school and county record in the high jump with a career high of 6'5⅛". Wood later jumped 6'5" to win the Franklin Sectional and then jumped 6'4" in the Regionals to qualify him for the State Finals.

Experience doesn't help

With probably the most experienced team that Whiteland has ever posted, the 1973 Warriors and Coach Dan Crabtree couldn't push enough runs across the plate to score the victory. With one of the worst seasons Whiteland has ever seen, the disappointed Warriors fell in defeat sixteen times while arising victorious only seven.

Leading the Warriors at bat was junior Joe Suding, with a .374 batting average. John Fowler took the reins in the field with a .993 fielding average. Ron Ramsey and John Fowler were chosen as co-captains, and Joe Suding hauled in the MVP award.

Having six graduating seniors, the Warriors are left with five returning lettermen. Baseball has been down at WCHS the last few years, but Coach Crabtree is determined to restore the tradition of winning baseball here.

Cheerleaders boost spirit

It isn't easy to do a difficult routine after hours of hard practice when your muscles and your voice wants to give out and still smile at the crowds—as our cheerleaders know. It takes devotion, cooperation and even some courage to face a gym full of fans who may not always cooperate.

Reward comes when you hear the roar of the Booster Club and see the winning score. Pride in Whiteland's cheerleaders is justified after the time and effort they spent.

FTA and FBLA, leaders of the future

The future Teachers of America are an active club. District and State Convention, as well as going to the Children's Museum and Santa's House were on the agenda. Whiteland was well represented with Karen Bennett being elected vice-president of district 5 and Lorna Bright running for Miss FTA.

FBLA also represented Whiteland well at state convention. Tina Moore and Susie Lutes were elected to state offices, and Linda Rhoades placed 3rd for Miss FBLA.

FTA and FBLA are truly leaders of the future as they have shown well in their accomplishments.

Clubs Teach New Customs

It is always interesting to know something about the language, customs, and people of another country. Through language clubs, students can discover what it's like to be involved in the ways of life in other lands.

French Club members were extremely active. Besides parties, picnics, and ice skating, they sponsored the annual Mardi Gras in which several other clubs participated.

Latin Club was well represented at the Junior Classical League convention this year by Kevin Andrews, who was elected president of the league.

Pinatas, Mexican food, and foreign speakers were part of Spanish Club's activities. Spanish Club also took part in the Mardi Gras with a genuine taco stand.

Drama play is successful.

Belonging to the Dramatics Club requires lot of time, hard work, interest, and talent but also provides a lot of fun for both the members of the club and those who watch the club's performances.

"Our Town" was presented to the student body and it was a terrific success. The performance was the first of its type in WCHS history. Written by Thorton Wilder, the drama told the story of the people of a small town. The leading roles were played by Ellen Wendt, as Emily Webb and Kim Thomas as George Gibbs.

Lighter activities included an "informal" invitation of new members and two parties. Senior girls were presented with charms and senior boys with small medals as momentos of their performances.

WCHS Band has spirit

Whiteland High School Marching Band led the county in the State Fair High School Marching Band Contest by capturing twenty-fourth place. The rest of a fantastic season included a second place at the Southport marching contest, Christmas Band and Choral Show and hosting the County Spring Band Festival.

Providing half-time entertainment during football was another function of the marching band while the Pep Band helped boost the team at basketball games. Through hard work and a lot of devotion, the band members were able to raise enough money to buy new uniforms by selling candy and band calenders.

D.

C. Twirlers Carrie Boyd, Sandy Black, Donna Poynter, Barbara Weber, and Linda Barnes added sparkle to half-time shows and parades.

D. Drum Major Greg Spahr and feature twirler Debbie Golden led the marching Warriors.

E. Connor Ross heads a row of trombones at the State Fair High School Marching Band Contest.

Choirs provide full variety of entertainment

Entrees, a select group of 23 girls, do their best to provide good music for community functions. Performing at District and State FTA convention, the Indiana Law School, American Life Insurance Company, and the Franklin Masonic temple were just a few of the many fine performances, the girls gave. Joining with Swing Choir to present "Naturally" the two groups became close.

Beginning Choir performed at the Christmas show with many Christmas songs. They also sang at the Circle. Though they are beginning, they will soon be a well-rounded vocal group.

backs teams Booster Club

The WCHS Booster Club is an infectious organization. Big mouths, good ideas, and just general noise combine to back the Warriors all the way.

Gimmicks such as buying beanies and pom-poms, making a set of VICTORY cards, class teepee competition, spirit buttons, and powderpuff football gave booster club members plenty of spirit-building activities.

Even though some members had the attitude, "just support a winner," our Warriors were winners and we had one of the loudest booster clubs in the county.
